
HOW ROCKET WOULD BE SENT SKYWARD

This is an artist's drawing of how an Air Force rocket will be towed some 100,000 feet into the air before being launched some time within the next 90 days. The four-stage rocket, which weighs 1,900 pounds, will be pulled into the heavens by this mammoth balloon from this style launcher. During tests, a similar balloon carried a dummy vehicle with associated launching platform weighing more than 2,300 pounds to an altitude of more than 104,000 feet.

PAYETTE LAKE MONSTER VERIFIED BY EYES OF 'NATIVE' OBSERVERS

McCALL, Idaho (AP)—When the visiting firemen at this resort town tell of seeing a serpant named "Sharlie.. in this resort twon tell of seeing a serpent named "Sharlie" in tribute the phenomenon to the effect of mountain air on city lungs.

But when the old-time residents reported having seen it, publisher Britt Nedry of the Payette Lakes Star gave blinking acknowledgement to what he called "unimpeachable evidence."

Nedry wrote in this week's edition that Mrs. Martha Ann Peabody and "the efficient office girls" employed by Brown Tie and Lumber Co., had seen the creature swimming near the company's log boom.

Mrs. Peabody operates the Lakeview Hotel here. With her during one of the "appearances" was Pauline Miller, who said that during 20 years here she has "rather doubted the fact of a monster in the lake."

"I can doubt no more," she said, and described it as "huge in size, not only in length but very wide." She said she didn't think it was a sturgeon.

What was the creature doing near the log boom?

Nedra wrote: "Seems that Sharlie is a lumberjack at heart and haunts the vicinity of the mill."

Wants Ruling On Indian Voting Rights

SALT LAKE CITY (UP)—A clarification of changes in Utah laws pertaining to voting on Indian and military reservations and absentee balloting was sought today by Salt Lake County Clerk Alvin Keddington.

Keddington said he wants to find out whether counties can set up registration and voting facilities on reservations without getting federal sanction. Keddington also said it was a question whether residents of military reservations should be allowed to register and vote when they cannot legally qualify as a state resident.

The official said he would also seek a clarification on absentee balloting by servicemen, missionaries and other Utahns out of the state.

The 1957 Utah Legislature amended state laws to permit voting by residents on government reservations.

Armed Robbery Count Faces Pair in Nevada

LAS VEGAS (UP) — Two 19-year-old Salt Lake City men have been charged with armed robbery in Justice Court here. The men were the object of a wild chase through Nevada and into southern Utah before they were captured in St. George, Utah.

Melvin Tucker and Daniel Ayers are charged in connection with the $15 armed robbery of Las Vegas taxi driver Harlow E. Ross, 58, Wednesday night.

Sheriff's deputies said the two men entered Ross' cab Wednesday, forced him to drive them to a lonely spot on the Overton Beach Road, about 60 miles northeast of here, forced him out of the car and drove the taxi to Utah.

In St. George, police captured the pair at a roadblock after halting them with a hail of gunfire.

Justice of the Peace Art Olsen set bail at $3,000 cash or $6,000 property. Both men waived preliminary hearing and the right to counsel. They will be arraigned later in district court.
